Market Commentary

Equity markets had an optimistic start to the new year with US President Donald Trump signing a phase one trade deal with China. However, this optimism waned as fears mounted over the outbreak of the coronavirus in Wuhan, China. Asian and European equity markets made significant losses with the Hang Seng, FTSE 100 and Euro STOXX 500 all down 6.7%, 3.4% and 2.6% respectively. Facing the prospect of a weaker global economy due to the coronavirus outbreak, Brent Crude oil was down 12.6% over the month. Safe haven assets performed well over the month with Gold up 4% and the US dollar and Japanese yen both appreciating against pound sterling. Yields on US, UK and German 10-year government bonds fell by 0.41, 0.30 and 0.25 basis points respectively. As an aside, the UK officially exited the EU on 31 January and will aim to negotiate a free trade deal with the EU within the 11-month transition period ending 31 December 2020.
