Market Commentary

After a poor start to the month, global equity markets gained some momentum through October and finished with healthy gains. The S&P 500 reached an all-time high and was up 7.0% over the month. The Euro STOXX 50 and the FTSE 100 were up 5.2% and 2.2% respectively. Energy prices reached record highs due to supply chain constraints around the world and increased consumer demand. This added to inflationary pressures, although US Treasury Secretary, Janet Yellen, said this is still seen as a temporary result of the supply chain bottlenecks. In fixed income markets, the yields on US, UK and German 10-year bonds increased by 6, 1 and 9 basis points respectively. Brent crude oil increased by 8.0% due to rising global demand being met with tight supply as a result of the global lockdowns. The pound was up 1.5% against the US dollar and down 0.2% against the euro.
